AUTO FANS TO LEARN OF SOUTHERN CUSTOMS

Richmond Merchants Have Provided Interesting Entertainment for Coming Convention.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 2.—When the delegates to the Richmond Automobile Club meet in Richmond, December 1, 2 and 3, they will be given an old-time Virginia entertainment, such as Northern folk would give but seldom see, except in imitation.

This part of the proceedings has been left in the hands of J. Thomas Palmer, and Alvin Smith, who have attracted attention in more than one Old Dominion convention by their efforts in this line. Palmer and Smith are two of the leading business men of the town, but they do not hesitate to spend time and money providing a good time for visitors, especially those from the North.

They have a cooking way of inviting the colored folk from Jackson ward to come forth and show the whites what a real cake walk and plantation dance means. There is much difference between an old-fashioned Southern cake walk and the travesties seen in the North.

These two members of the entertainment committee of the Richmond Automobile Club say that they have a surprise or two in store for President Enos and Chairman Batcher, of the A. A. A. executive committee, but what it is they will not divulge. It has "possum" and sweet potatoes, pone cake and corn pudding beaten forty ways, they say.

Girl Cleans Pastor.

New York, Nov. 2.—Rev. George D. Higgins, of Juliettown, N. J., near Mount Holly, will be cleared of the stain put upon his character by the accusation of a young girl at the next session of the State board of pardons.

Supt. Williams, of the institution, has given out an affidavit made by the girl in which she says that it was a man living in another part of the State who attacked her.

An electric motor has been specially designed to operate player-planes.

DEPARTMENT BUILDING AT CORNER THIRTEENTH AND F STREETS

FIVE NEW BUILDINGS ON 'MYSTERY CORNER'

Property at Thirteenth and F Streets to Be Improved by Erection of White Terra Cotta Structures.

FOR LONG-TERM TENANTS

The speculation long rife over the ownership and occupation of the Thirteenth and F street property is now definitely settled, and the above picture shows the character of building to be erected on this site.

The entire plot to be improved at this time will have a frontage of ninety-seven feet on F street by a depth of 120 feet on Thirteenth street. The improvements will consist of five four-story and basement buildings. When completed, next March, this will rank as one of the most ornate business structures in the city. The buildings will be constructed of white terra cotta and featured with ornamental courses of limestone, and the interior will be in keeping with the exterior.

It is the desire of the syndicate to lease the property for a long term of years, in which case alterations will be made to suit tenants; the building being so constructed that such changes can be made. This will be one of the handiwork improvements in the city and will enhance the value of property in this locality.

MILITANCY SAID TO BE APPROVED

Mrs. George Declares Suffragists Here Sanction English Methods.

OTHER CHANGES MADE

Club at Takoma Park Also Is Told that Leaders in Movement Promote Socialism.

Speaking before the Home Interest Club, of Takoma Park, last night, in the Takoma library building, Mrs. A. J. George, the anti-suffrage lecturer, charged that the suffragists in this country approve the militancy of England, promote the socialism of Eugene V. Debs, and encourage the doctrine of the advanced feminists.

Mrs. George delivered the address in response to an invitation from the club, which had already heard a suffragist.

"The suffragist in charge of the Congressional work of the suffragists here," said the speaker, "has served a prison term in England because of her participation in the activities of the militants in that country. And Mrs. George delivered the address in response to an invitation from the club, which had already heard a suffragist."

"The leaders of suffrage do, and the only way to judge of suffrage is by the position taken by the suffrage leaders."

Literature Is Denounced. Mrs. George explained that she had been forced, while in Massachusetts, to call on Postmaster General Burleson to protect her from some of the literature sent out by the suffragists in the State of New York. This, she explained, was a post card, and she had asked the Post-office Department to say whether or not it could be sent through the mails. The department replied, she said, that the literature could not be put through the United States mails, and that an order preventing it had already been issued.

The vanguard of the more than 100 anti-suffragists who will appear before the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage will hold its annual convention in New York on Tuesday, it being in the nature of a coincidence that the time of the suffragist convention in this city and that of the "anti" in New York is about the same.

The "anti" will elect officers and transact all their business in New York on Tuesday, and will be free to come in large numbers to Washington for the hearing.

Mrs. Dodge and Mrs. George called on Chairman Henry of the Rules Committee, at the committee rooms yesterday afternoon, and were told by Mr. Henry that the suffragists, being the petitioners for the establishment of a committee on woman suffrage in the House, would be the first speakers, and that Mrs. Dodge's organization would follow them.

Among the prominent delegates and speakers who will be at the hearing of the anti on Thursday or Friday will be: New York—Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, Mrs. Nelson Henry, Miss Anna Jennings, and Mrs. John Church. Massachusetts—Mrs. A. J. George, Mrs. Mary E. SCHPEPS WOULD AND BECKER

Witness Has Different Story, Which May Have Followed.

New York, Nov. 2.—Sam Scheppe, the State's most important witness in the Rosenthal murder trial, today offered an entirely different story, which he declared may possibly "save" Becker.

Scheppe, former police lieutenant, and the four gunmen, all convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, a gambler, are in the death house at Sing Sing awaiting execution. The argument of their appeal for a new trial will be heard Monday by the Court of Appeals.

What Scheppe is willing to swear, is not known, but it is believed he intends making some one other than Becker the central figure in the murder, and thus ameliorate Becker's case.

Scheppe is now in France, and the offer to add Becker was made in cable dispatches to Mrs. Becker.

Arthur Palmer and Joseph Egan, counsel for Becker, will present to the Court of Appeals Monday, twenty-five reasons why the conviction of Becker and the gunmen should be reversed.

FIGHT OVER JUROR HALTS CRAIG TRIAL

Case Is Adjourned Until Tomorrow When Unexpected Dispute Over Twelfth Man Develops.

Shelbyville, Ind., Nov. 2.—An unexpected fight over the twelfth juror in the trial of Dr. William E. Craig for the murder of Dr. Helene Knabe, in Indianapolis, on October 21, 1911, delayed the progress of the case and caused Judge Almon Blair to adjourn court until Monday.

Harry Webster, the Indianapolis private detective, who discovered the evidence on which Dr. Craig was indicted, after the city police had passed the case as a suicide, probably will be the twelfth juror for the State. Webster will be followed by Indianapolis friends of Dr. Knabe, including Augusta Knabe, the only relative of the murdered woman in America.

The defense will attack the reputation of Webster, charging that he is in league with a ring of clairvoyants and that much of his evidence and "tips" came through the seers, and that Webster himself believes in a clairvoyance.

The State, it became known, will not demand the death penalty for Dr. Craig. This is in itself considered a big victory by lawyers for the defense, who consider it a confession of weakness.

APPEAL TAKES MILLION WORDS

Convinced Cash Register Officials Take Case to Higher Court.

Cincinnati, Nov. 2.—President John H. Patterson and twenty-eight other officials or former officials of the National Cash Register Company of Dayton, Ohio, who were convicted last year of violating the criminal section of the Sherman anti-trust law, filed an appeal in the United States District Court of Appeals here today.

Despite the fact that the appeal is only a condensed resume of the case, it contains more than a million words, and is written on 7,000 pages. It is the most voluminous appeal ever presented to the local court.

The petition for the appeal alleges that during the trial of the case 100 errors were made and the application is based on each and every one of these.
